KERNS WOULD SELL PLANT TO CITY

power under items 21, 22 and 23. We justify this under the assumption that this plant is to be a self-sustaining institution and will be absolutely independent of any tax on the public. Under item 32 you will see that we have arrived at the conclusion that the City will have annually $12,381.52 to apply on the retirement of the bonds issued. While we know that this particular sum is going to be attached from all possible points we also know that there is plenty of data available that will prove to any unbiased person that the above sum is well below the actual net returns to be expected from the operation of the plant. The accompanying report shows the investment necessary to deliver 1,000 K. W. to the consumers of Klamath Falls together with the present load of about 450 H. P. of the Keno Power Co. Thanking you for your consideration in this matter we remain, Very truly yours, Keno Power Co. J. W. KERNS.

Letters From The People

Mr. Editor of the Herald—I wish to say a word in defence of our representative, Dr. Merryman. Klamath County has numerous homesteaders and possessors of small holdings scattered all over the county. These people are trying to make a living and a home on the public lands of eastern Oregon. Some people like myself, Mr. Oliver Sly of the State Line ranch on the road to Dorris, Mr. Ed Cross in the same vicinity, Mr. Eugene Spencer and Mr. Lenn

Anderson of Spencer Creek, have small bands of stock running on the range. For the past five years, there has been from four to six thousand head of sheep driven over our private holdings. As the law says that the sheep must be moved at least five miles per day, and as the sheep are usually driven in bands of from fifteen hundred to twenty-five hundred head, you can readily understand that there is not much grazing left for the homesteader's stock, after the bands of sheep have spread out and grazed over a territory from one quarter to a mile wide. As has been said before, what the sheep do not eat they destroy with their feet. Dr. Merryman knows of these conditions, and is trying to get a law passed that will give the homesteader some relief.—Yours Respectfully, R. W. TOWER.
